Example: Database Transactions

```
try:
     update_the_database()
except TransactionError:
     rollback()
     raise
else:
                           If the commit raises a Transaction Exception,
                                we might actually want to crash
     commit()
```

Aside: Python Philosophy